

Futures Community Voice Newsletter

Message from Stephanie Power, Community Voice Secretary -

Futures Community Voice is a group of residents from Marsh Farm with support from Futures House, that was formed in 2015.

We want to give you, the residents of Marsh Farm, a voice and the opportunity to express your views, issues, concerns and recommendations in improving the experience of living on the estate. Community Voice is looking to do more across the community and would love to hear from all residents as we value your input.

Over the last two years we have painted 4 subways with murals from a meadow theme to a space theme. We had lots of residents volunteering on this project from helping to paint, to making refreshments. We are also looking for members to join the group and help improve the area for the residents.

We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Tunnel Painting

At Futures Community Voice we worked together with local artist, Aimi Rix, to combine the vision she had for the painting of the tunnels in Marsh Farm and the Street Makeovers scheme. We applied for funding from The Health Lottery to help us with this project, which we were successfully awarded.

did an excellent job.

We had great support from the residents and also the Local Councillors for which we are very grateful. During this project the Community Voice members gave up a lot of their time to help, including cleaning weeds and rubbish at the entrance to the tunnels.

It has made such a difference to the area already. Bringing colour to the grey structures has really helped to brighten the area.

Futures Community Voice would like to say a huge thank you to everyone who came along and especially to those who made cakes for the event.
